MRS. HICKMAN AD- DRESSED WORKERS

Vice President of Synodical Delivered Splendid Address Before United Christian Workers.

On Tuesday afternoon at the Methdist church Mrs. W. L. Hickman, vice resident of the Woman's Synodical of Texas, informally addressed the United Christian Workers of this city.
Mrs. Hickman is president of the City ederation of Texarkana, which has been organized for a period of four years, and her talk consisted mainly of the work done by the organization that city.

She first told the ladies that the work of the organization depended on the fact that union and fellowship was one of its primary objects and that modesty and dignity of interdenominational work was only brought about through this means.

The executive board consists of the pastors' wives, and the officers of the organization, together with the presidents of the church societies, act as advisory board. Open meetings are held twice a year and the executive board holds an annual meeting, and held meetings whenever the occasion demands them, as too many meetings are not conducive to growth.

The organization does not endeavor raise money, as the spirit of giving always so great that the work in it respect has not been encouraged. cited several instances, which were interesting as well as helpful, in tard to the finances of the organization.

Mrs. Hickman was very enthusiastic she remarked that they always endeavored to do "big things," and as consequence their prestige was ased, and some things had been accomplished by them which otherwise would have been impossible. ause the organization was interdenominational.

Missionary speakers, all-day meetings at suburban churches, prayer and ice services, visits to orphans' ies, mission study classes in union numerous other features were in as being helpful to the organiza-brought greater missionary information, closer fellowship and greater understanding and knowledge of the work a more universal standpoint is obtained, and as a consequence the response is greater on the part of the women. Rivalry is not so keen, much more interest prevails and unity of purpose is paramount.

Mrs. Hickman stressed the fact that associated charities should be avoided, as the primary object was for the spread of the gospel. However, it is necessary to have a charity committee, which should use discretion as to the work done. In other words, "Put the gospel above bread and meat."

She urged the ladies to come in direct touch with the interdenominational work and if they could not have leaders of note to come to them, it would be advisable to send a delegate to the Interdenominational Training School at Denton, so as to learn the best methods of directing the work of the organization.

The talk made by Mrs. Hickman was very helpful and the ladies considered themselves fortunate in having her address them.
